

THE CHARLES JOHN EVERARD SCHOLARSHIP

In 1972, Ella Syme Everard left a bequest to the University to establish one or more scholarships in memory of her late husband Charles John Everard. The scholarships enable graduates at the University of Adelaide to undertake original research in agricultural or horticultural science.

The following rules now apply:

Rules

1. The Scholarship will be formally named 'The Charles John Everard Scholarship'.
2. Recipients must be Australian citizens, New Zealand citizens or permanent residents of Australia and must remain enrolled on a full-time basis in the approved program for which the scholarship was approved.
3. The Scholarship will be awarded annually (if income permits – under no circumstances will the scholarship be funded from the capital of the endowment), to students commencing a full-time Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) research program at the University, and may be offered as either a Major or Supplementary Scholarship.
4. The annual value of the Scholarship will be:-
 - a. if offered as a Major Scholarship, 10% greater than the amount of a Research Training Program Stipend (RTPS);
 - b. if offered as a Supplementary award, as determined by the Graduate Scholarships Committee. To be eligible for The Charles John Everard Supplementary Scholarship the student must hold a Major Scholarship equivalent to an RTPS.
5. Students are eligible to hold additional funding from other sources, however the total value of the additional awards must not exceed 75% of the value of the major scholarship.
6. The Charles John Everard Scholarship will be awarded by the University on the basis of academic merit and research potential in the field of agricultural or horticultural sciences, as determined by the Graduate Scholarships Committee.
7. The offer of a C J Everard Scholarship will be made by the Adelaide Graduate Centre on the recommendation of the Graduate Scholarships Committee.
8. The duration of the Scholarship will be three years for research towards the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, subject to satisfactory progress as indicated by the student's supervisor and Head of School, and may be extended up to an additional 6 months upon application on the prescribed form. Payment of the stipend to the successful applicant will be disbursed by the University on a fortnightly basis into a nominated Australian bank account.
9. Where more than one scholarship is offered in any year, the scholarships shall be known as The Charles John Everard No. 1 Scholarship, and The Charles John Everard No. 2 Scholarship, or as the case may be.
10. The successful applicant will be under no obligation whatsoever to render any service to the benefactor, or to the University of Adelaide as a result of receiving this Scholarship, except insofar that they are required to pursue their research as a full-time student. They will be supervised in the same manner and to the same extent as any other postgraduate student.
11. The University of Adelaide accepts no responsibility to support the recipient of the Scholarship in the event that the Scholarship ceases to be funded for any reason.
12. The University may vary the rules from time to time in a manner consistent with the University's legal obligations and policies.

Approved by Acting Vice Chancellor & President, 15 May 2017
